

The Center for Innovative Teaching

is announcing its

Spring 2023 Decolonizing Forum Series

The goal of this forum series is to work towards an anti-racist, decolonizing teaching, research, practice integration that affects personal praxis, social and interpersonal interconnectedness, and multi-sector structural reforms. The focus of this series is to promote transformative practice towards justice related to people, groups, institutions, and "place."

Kick Off Forum: January 25, 2023 from 12–1:30 PM:

"What Does DEI Have to Do With It?" Examining Decolonizing Groundings for Liberatory Pedagogies with Jackie Lageson, Patricia Krueger-Henney & Cheryl Ching

All forums will be hybrid. The in-person room is TBD.

Forum 1: Decolonizing "Rigor" in Higher Education

Date: January 31, 2023, 1-2:30 PM

Forum 2: Big Picture: How Coloniality Molds Teaching, Scholarship, and Being

Date: February 16, 2023, 2-3:30 PM

Forum 3: Decolonizing Syllabi in Higher Education

Date: Monday, February 27, 2023, 2-3:30 PM

Forum 4: Teaching the Whole Person: Healing from Colonial and Other Abuses

Date: Tuesday, March 7, 2023, 12-1:30 PM

Forum 5: Community-Engaged and Place-Based Scholarship

Date: TBD, early April 2023

Forum 6: Transnational Perspectives, Transdisciplinary Approaches, and Translating Between and Resisting through Theory, Teaching, Research, and Applied Work

Date: April 18, 2023, 2-3:30 PM

